

SHOULD I SWITCH PROGRAMS?

FOR MORE, VISIT
careers.humber.ca/resources

The decision to switch programs should not be taken lightly. If you are considering switching, now is the time to speak to a Career & Student Success Advisor to do some career exploration and reflect on how the strengths and weaknesses of your previous decision-making led you to feel unsure. Below is information to help with your decision-making. Use this as a starting point.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS RESOURCE AND WORKSHEET

Making the Decision

- Gather relevant information to help you with the decision
- Assess the pros and cons
- Consider alternatives

Name:

Current Program:

Percentage of Current Program Completed:

New Program Considering:

Percentage of Courses Available for Transfer:

<https://humber.ca/admissions/transfer-options.html>

What is Your Career Goal, or Long-Range Plan?

FOR MORE, VISIT
careers.humber.ca/resources

Self-Assessment

Things to Think Through About The Program You're Considering	Agree	Disagree	N/A
I am interested enough to study this subject on a more intensive level.
I need this type of education to help me reach my career goal.
I have the necessary financial resources to pursue this program.
This is the right time for me to pursue this program (personally, financially, etc.).
I am prepared for the workload required by this program.
I know why I want to study for this program.
I have the academic skills needed to successfully complete this program.
I understand the requirements, electives etc. required for this program.
I meet the academic requirements for admission to this program.
I have researched the available career opportunities related to this program.
I have considered the electives I will take to complete the requirements for this credential.
I am interested enough in this subject area that I am motivated to connect with faculty members in this department.			